

Dion Florack (1963) joined the Plant Biotech arena during his MSc training in 1985 at Wageningen University. Got his PhD in 1994 on engineering disease resistance into crop plants and from 1996 on focussed on Biopharmaceutical protein production in plants. Now Senior Scientist Protein and Glyco Technology at Plant Research International responsible for Plant-Derived-Vaccines and Glycosylation research programmes.