

Stephen Howell is Director of the Plant Sciences Institute at Iowa State University. The Institute is a large interdisciplinary organization with over 200 faculty affiliates. Howell was formerly VP for Research at the Boyce Thompson Institute at Cornell University. He received his PhD from Johns Hopkins University and rose from postdoc to Professor at the University of California San Diego.